Rana currently works as Project Assistant (Written Communication and Translation) at ICCROM-ATHAR Regional Conservation Center in Sharjah. She handles tasks related to the centre’s publications and website entries. She holds a Bachelor’s degree in English Language and Literature from the American University of Sharjah (AUS) and is pursuing her Master’s in Translation and Interpreting at the same university. She worked as a Research Assistant at the English Language and Literature department at AUS in 2012. She also worked as a legal translator at Maamoun AlKhouli and Associates in Dubai, UAE. Reading deeply into literature, she had the pleasure of appreciating the role cultures play in shaping civilizations over time. This interest never spurred her away from her passion for the Arabic language. Rana believes that ICCROM-ATHAR offers her a vibrant interdisciplinary platform where she can nurture and utilize her language skills and her interest in the Arab culture.
